We continue to be busy outturning grain to both international and domestic markets from all regions. We are loading vessels at our Port Lincoln, Thevenard, Wallaroo and Port Giles export terminals, and loading trains and trucks in our Central and Eastern regions.

Registrations of interest for our harvest positions are open for people looking to work the grain harvest in South Australia, western Victoria and Narrabri, New South Wales.

Around 1,500 harvest jobs will be available from October through to January (length subject to site location and harvest), with training provided prior to October.

People who register their interest via our website will sign up to our harvest jobs newsletter and be notified when applications open.
